- a. While there is a life there is a hope.
  - b. Sun rises in the east.
  - c. Her knowledge of medicine had been acquired under an aged Jewess.
  - d. The brave soldier lost arm in the battle.

Option A is incorrect because we are talking about the presence of life at a place. Hence, 'where' should be used instead of 'while'. Option B is incorrect because Sun should be accompanied with the article 'the'. Option D is incorrect because of the absence of possessive pronoun 'his'.

- 5 Choose the word that best completes the given sentence: The judge gave the jury instructions manner because their comprehension was critical to the case. .
- a. Deliberate.
  - b. Feeble
  - c. Callous

  - c. Mary sends out 25 invitations for the bridal shower she is giving For her sister.
  - d. Whenever she eats at the Mexican restaurant, Clara seems to run Into Peter

From the context, it is clear that an informal gathering occurs on not-so-special occasions. Hence, we can eliminate options C and B because both of them belong to special occasions. And option D is incorrect because there is no gathering as such. It is just two people meeting because of a coincidence. Hence, option A is the right answer.

13 Directions to Solve

The given question presents a situation and asks you to make a judgement regarding the particular circumstance. Choose an answer based on given information. Eileen is planning a special birthday dinner for her husband's 35th Birthday. 17 Consider the following statements:

1. In a recent super court verdict Pronounced by Justice Markandeya Katju and Justice Gyan Sudh Mishra, the court upheld the constitutionality of the Haj subsidy.
2. Muslims are not the only beneficiaries of the secular state’s generosity. Hindus have also received substantial financial support from the Government.

With reference to the statements mentioned above, which of the following is correct?

- a. 1 only
- b. 2 only
- c. Both 1 and 2
- d. Neither 1 nor 2

Both statements (1) & (2) are true. Article 27 says: “ No person shall be compelled to pay any taxes, the proceeds of which are specially appropriated in payment of expenses for the promotion and maintenance of any particular religion or religious denomination.”

• Petitioner Prafull Goradia had complained that through he was a Hindu, he had to pay direct or indirect taxes, part of which were utilized by the government to subsidize Haj, which was done by Muslims alone. Dismissing the petition, the Bench said; “ In our opinion, if only a small part of any tax collected is utilised for providing some conveniences or facilities or concessions to any religious denomination, that would not be violative of Article 27 of the Constitution.” • So in accordance of Article 27 every religion in India is beneficiary of secular state's generosity.

18 Consider the following statement and arguments:

Statement: Should there be a world government?

Arguments:

- 1) Yes. It will help in eliminating tensions among the nations.

With reference to the statement and arguments mentioned above, which of the following is correct?

- a. Only argument I is strong.
- b. Only argument II is strong
- c. Only argument II is strong

d. Neither I or II is strong

Neither of the arguments are strong enough to be correct. We can't conclusively prove that a world government will be able to eliminate tensions among the nations. Also, it is too extreme to say that this idea is administratively impossible. Hence, option D is the right answer.

45 Principle: Only Parliament or state Legislature have the authority to extract laws on their own No.law made by the state can take away a person's fundamental right.

Facts: Parliament enacted a law, which according to a group of lawyer is violating the fundamental rights of traders. A group of lawyers files a petition challenging the constitutional validity of the statue seeking relief to quash the statute and further direct Parliament to enact a new law. A. B. C. D.

- a. No writ would lie against Parliament, as the court has no authority to direct parliament to enact or re-enact law.
- b. The court can quash existing law of it violates fundamental right and can direct parliament to make a new law.
- c. The court can quash existing law of it violates fundamental right but cannot direct parliament to make a new law.

d. None of the above

According to the Principle the authority to create laws exclusively rests in the hands of Parliament and state legislatures, thus no authority can direct or supervise parliament to enact a new law. However, the Principle also states that a law should not violate fundamental rights. So, the court can quash a parliament's law on the ground if it violates fundamental right but can't direct parliament to make a new law.

101 Apply the specified rules to Shazia's case and answer the question:

Rule A: An owner of land has the right to use the land in any manner he or she desires. The owner the land also owns the space above and the depth below it.

Rule B: Rights above the land extend only to the point they are essential to any use of enjoyment of land.

Rule C: An owner cannot claim infringement of her property right if the space above his land is put to reasonable use by someone else at a height at which the owner would have reasonable use of it and it does not affect the reasonable enjoyment of his or her land.

Shazia's case: Shazia own a single story house in Ahmedabad which has been in her family for more than 75 years. The foundation of the house cannot support another floor and Shezia has no intention of demolishing her family home to construct a bigger building. Javed and Sandeep are business partner and own three story houses on either side of Shazia's house. Javed and Sandeep are also Ahmedabad's main distributors for a major soft drink company. They have erected a huge hoarding advertising their products with ends supported on their roofs but the hoarding also passes over Shezia's house at 70 feet and casts a permanent shadow on her terrace. Shezia's decides to hoist a huge Indian flag, going up to 75 feet on her roof. She files a case asking the court to order Javed and Sandeep to remove the hoarding for all these reasons.
